Bullet points

- Loops are used to run the same code multiple times (iteration).

- There are three kinds of loop in Java: while, do-while and for.

- The loop body of a do-while is always executed at least one time.

- Choose for over while, do-while when you know how many times you want to repeat the loop code.

uc3m

Bullet points

- Loops are used to run the same code multiple times (iteration).

- There are three kinds of loop in Java: while, do-while and for.

- The loop body of a do-while is always executed at least one time.

- Choose for over while, do-while when you know how many times you want to repeat the loop code.

- Use break to leave a loop early.

uc3m